Stampede Is On, Thirteen Seek Seats On Board Of Selectmen

Neutral Observer

The Observer is not feuding with the MTA, but it was it absolutely necessary to cause the gigantic traffic jam - up that was caused Tuesday.

How long will Boston merchants stand for loss of business such as has been the case during two MTA strikes?

How long will commuters stand by if such strikes continue?

The answers may come soon.

The situation is a serious one.

Some Arlington residents and officials are not happy with the service as presented by the MTA.

Failure to initiate action on the Harvard sq. situation.

MTA buses failing to pull over to the curbs to pick up and discharge passengers, thus blocking traffic on Mass.

Only two complaints locally, but add them to the complaints from other communities and we have a dissatisfied population segment.

Walk-Don't Walk A Man you all Know

Town Engineer Roby this week in a letter to Town Manager Edward C. Monahan stated: "The timing of the Walk-Don't Walk signals in operation at Mass. ave. and Pleasant st. has caused much talk and many questions, and I believe an explanation is in order."

"The main purpose in using these signals instead of the red and amber interval is that with the Walk-Don't Walk signs it is unnecessary to stop all traffic movements in the intersection to allow pedestrian crossings. It therefore, allows the passage of a greater number of vehicles in a given time. Calculations by the Consultant in designing the system showed that it would be impossible to care for the passage of the expected number of vehicles during the rush hours if the operation of the lights were interrupted for a red and amber interval," Roby added.

"The timing sequence now in use shows a green 'walk' indication for a few seconds at the start of the period when no vehicles will be crossing the crosswalk. The total period, a minimum of eighteen seconds, is ample to allow a pedestrian to cross the intersection, but the green 'walk' changes to red, 'Don't Walk' after seven seconds so that a pedestrian will not start across in the last part of the eighteen seconds allowed.

"If space and cost were no object the green 'walk' interval should probably read 'Start to Cross' and then after seven seconds change to 'Continue to cross but do not start.'"

"I believe the public will get used to the lights in a short while and that they will prove to be satisfactory," Roby concluded.

Town Purchases Equipment At Great Saving

The purchase of several pieces of equipment by the Town of Arlington from the City of Somerville at a cost of $12,600 will represent a net gain to the Town approximately $63,900.

Bids for the equipment were submitted to the Department of PW of the City of Somerville Friday, and were publicly opened Jan. 27.

At the Bottom of the World

This Story
Is An Arlington
News
Special Feature

How would you like to spend a year at the bottom of the world?

A man many of you know will do just that.

Robert J. O'Neil, utilities man second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. O'Neil, 28 Brattle ter., Arlington, serving with the Antarctic Naval Support Forces at the bottom of the world is scheduled to spend the next year at Byrd Station, Antarctica.

O'Neil is one of ten Navy personnel assigned to maintain the station during the 1961 Scientific Research Program. Six months of the year will be spent in complete isolation with radio serving as their only means of contact with the outside world.

The story printed below explains why the Arlington man is at the South Pole and what he will be doing.

Like old time gold prospectors, scientists of 12 nations are bit by bit wrestling long and jealously guarded secrets from the most mysterious continent on the face of the earth - Antarctica.

Their quest is for knowledge, not wealth, and they have planes and ships and tractors to help them instead of a pick and shovel and a burro.

Nevertheless, since 1957 when the International Geophysical Year brought on the first full-scale assault on Antarctica, only portions of the ice-covered South Polar region have been explored.

But the efforts of the IGY have been expanded and extended by the nations taking part in Antarctic exploration. A continuing program of research is being carried out in different degrees by each of these nations.

The United States Antarctic Research Program is the largest of these efforts in terms of money, manpower and logistic support.

And the job of supporting the American Antarctic scientific program is being done by the U.S. Navy.

It has been termed by experts as "the greatest peacetime military logistic program" in our history.

In late 1954 the Navy was told by the President to take on the responsibility of building seven bases in Antarctica in time for the IGY which began on July 1, 1957.

Early in 1955 a task force was formed to carry out the assigned mission. The code name OPERATION DEEP FREEZE was tagged to the program.

In addition to building the bases the Navy had to supply and maintain them and also provide all support needed by our scientists.

Board Opposes M.T.A. Hike Bill

The Arlington Board of Selectmen Monday night went on record as opposing a bill which would increase the Town's share of the M.T.A. deficit.

The legislation, now in the hands of the Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, would hike assessments for all of the other communities in the M.T.A. district except Boston. The proposed change is to base (Continued on Page 3)

Two goals by Shaun Quinlan and a goal and three assists by Paul Donnelly sparked Arlington high school's hockey team to its 10th victory in eleven starts at the Boston Arena Saturday.

The locals clinched at least a tie for the G.B.I. crown with 6-1 victory over Somerville. Arlington netminder Clarke lost his chance for a shutout when Quinn tallied Somerville's lone marker at 7:30 of the third period after Arlington had moved to a 6-0 lead.

Quinlan scored Arlington's first goal with Morgan and Davieau picking up assists at 4:12 of the opening period. At 5:40 Leonard scored the second marker with Donnelly getting credit for the assist.

Quinlan scored his second goal of the game and moved the locals out front 3-0 at 7:42 with Kierstead picking up an assist. Lax tallied Arlington's fourth score at 9:45 with Donnelly getting the assist.

Davieau scored the lone marker of the second period at 4:51 with Donnelly once again picking up credit for the assist.

Donnelly added Arlington's sixth goal at 6:30 of the final period with Lax and Dutton getting assists.

Leafs Blank Rangers, Increase Lead

The Maple Leafs increased their lead over the Canadiens in the Pee Wee League as they blanked the Rangers 4-0 Saturday.

The Canadiens stayed close however as they tied the Wings 3-3 on a goal on John Deveau's 15 foot shot.

Red Wings 3 Canadiens 3 John Deveau's 15 foot screamer in the closing moments of the game enabled the Canadiens to tie the scrappy Wings. The Wings went ahead late in the game when Bob Heavern took a pass-up from Bob Blouin, faked the Canadian goalie out, and tucked the puck in the corner. Mike O'Leary and Jack Regan also scored for the Wings, assisted by Mark Murphy and Bob Heavern.

Dick Russo and Deveau tallied the other markers for the Canadiens. Russo, Deveau and Gordie Howell also earned assists.

Maple Leafs 4 Rangers 0 The Leafs first line of Dolan, Ronan and Briand accounted for all the goals as the Leafs rolled over the Rangers 4 - 0. Ed Ronan scored two; Dolan and Briand each had one. Dolan and Briand also picked up two assists.

Black Hawks 1 Maroons 2

Dan Grannan jumped on a loose puck at the Hawk's blue line and swung in close to beat the Hawk's goalie with the winning goal. Bill Shea put the Hawks in the game with a long shot that caught the corner.

Fred Holway had given the Maroons an early lead with a close up blast. Bob McGillivray made several sensational stops in the Maroon cage.

Rockets 2 Bruins 1 In a nip and tuck affair the Rockets edged the Bruins 2 - 1. Roger Kelley was the big gun for the Rockets scoring both goals. His winning goal was the result of a brilliant solo dash.

Paul Ciampa scored his first of the season for the Bruins assisted by Jeff Guiney.

John W. Bullock, 103 Palmer St., today was named as the Chairman of a Reception in honor of Selectman candidate, Phil Pellegrini, to be held at the American Legion Hall, Massachusetts Ave., Feb. 12, at 7:30 P.M.

Bullock said, "We want everyone interested in Phil Pellegrini to attend this reception whether they be registered as Democrats, Independents or Republicans. This is a non-partisan election and our support of Phil's candidacy is based on his outstanding qualifications."

"The Town Election is now a little over four weeks away," Bullock continued, "and much work lies ahead if we are to properly present Phil's record of public service to the voters. I might add it is an outstanding record, with service as the Zoning Board of Appeals Chairman for seven years, Co-President of the Hardy School P.T.A. for two years, a former Town Meeting Member from Precinct 4, and an active participant in charitable and civic drives held in this Town for over ten years. Certainly Phil Pellegrini deserves promotion to the Board of Selectmen."

Serving on the Pellegrini for Selectman Reception Committee with Bullock are: co-campaign managers, Kevin Feeley and George Remmert, Mrs. Josephine Beninati, Mrs. Dorothy Stanley, Mrs. Leo Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Edward Sabol, Mrs. Thomas Cahill, Alfred DeVito, Philip Clark, Michael Langone, Robert Winn, James Meehan, Charles Bjondo and William Collins.

Don't Let it Break Ground

Suburban areas to the west of Arlington are growing at a rapid rate. Population growth in such communities as Burlington, Sudbury, etc., during the last decade has been on the fantastic side.

These communities face serious problems which must be faced now, with rules and regulations governing their solution, or the future could spell trouble.

The main reason for the congested conditions with the hodge-podge of buildings of every description in the cities east of Arlington surrounding Boston is that when these communities were in their "founding stages" the same problems were encountered that are now being encountered in the suburbs west of Arlington.

However, at that time planning as it is known today with its long-distance surveys, and rules and regulations was practically unknown.

Therefore, streets ran helter-skelter and hither and yon. Houses were built two, three and four decks high with only driveways or patches of lawn, separated by shrubs between towering monstrosities which rose directly from the sidewalk.

When initially constructed these homes suited the era, apparently, and the homes were kept in fine condition.

In later years, however, increasing population in these areas, led eventually to slum conditions. In recent years, these blighted sections have been improved under the so-called Urban-Renewal Program.

Urban Renewal help, once limited to blighted areas, sections of communities already decayed now is available to communities seeking to stop blight before it starts.

The Town of Arlington hopes to take advantage of this opportunity and with this thought in mind has inserted an article in the annual Warrant seeking initial powers of Urban Renewal.

Certainly, the approval of this article by Town Meeting members is vitally important to the future of the Town of Arlington.

Let's not let blight move westward from the congested areas of the cities to the east of us, let's not only nip decay in the bud, but let's cut the embryo plant before it can break through the ground.

The Inside Story

Last week we talked about the Republicans and Independent candidates for the office of Selectmen. This week it's the Democrats turn. We hope we have room enough in this column for discussion of them all.

The local battle for power between the Democratic Town Committee and the Democratic Club continues. The Committee, after some effort met with unprecedented success in its efforts to narrow down the field in the Selectmen contest.

However, the Democratic Club announced that it would endorse. This move revived the hopes of many.

Former Park Commissioner and candidate for Assessor in other elections, Daniel A. Purcell, is one of those who decided to stay in under these circumstances.

His "team mate" in this contest is Taxi owner "led" O'Connell. Where does he stand?

Former Selectman Tommy Rawson has certainly worn a path in and out of the Town Hall over the past years. He has won and lost for Public Works and won and lost for Selectman. In the interim he was an unsuccessful candidate in the Democratic primaries for State Representative and Senator.

Nevertheless, Tommy has the resilience plus the ability, and could surprise all by running very strongly throughout the town.

Next we have Zoning Board Chairman Phil Pelligrini. Phil, in a tremendous battle two years ago against two outstanding candidates, lost by an eyelash.

Phil has served on the Zoning Board of Appeals, as President of the Hardy P.T.A.; as Town Meeting Member; and has been an active participant in numerous charitable drives. With this distinguished record of community service no one can deny his qualifications for selectman.

James P. McGuinness, "a good Joe" is one who is being lead astray by practical jokers, the most cruel type.

Tom Azarian, whose papers were taken out by a friend (?) has the sticker of another candidate on his car. Since his papers were not filed it looks like Tom never intended on running.

Paul Campbell and Ed Murphy have withdrawn in the interest of harmony and both would like to go at a later date.

William F. McCarthy's campaign slogan seems to be that he has a good name for a political race.

Well dear voter that is the line-up. We shall have to be content with waiting until Feb. 7th, to see what the next play will be. Next week we will focus on the half-time activities and see what the various displays will consist of.

Variety is the spice of life and we sure have that.

The first two bases went up during the Antarctic summer season of 1955 - 56. A Naval Air Facility was established at McMurdo Sound as a staging base and a scientific headquarters was set up at Little America V. Both stations were located near the Ross Sea, at opposite ends of the Ross Ice Shelf, a floating sheet of glacial ice as large as France. During the 1956 - 57 season, five more stations were born in time for the start of IGY. Two of the stations were built inland; one at the geographical South Pole and one in Marie Byrd Land.

The other three were erected at widely separated points on the Antarctic coastline.

With the stations manned and fully supplied, America's agreed commitments for the IGY were fulfilled and a successful scientific program was assured.

But when IGY was over at the end of 1958, 12 nations decided that they would continue their scientific programs in Antarctica. In the fall of 1959 representatives of these countries, including the United States and the USSR, met in Washington and signed a treaty guaranteeing the future of Antarctica as a peaceful, scientific laboratory. Though still to be ratified by the countries concerned, this treaty is considered a model which could be followed for a treaty on space.

With the decision to continue the Antarctic program, the Navy was told to continue its logistic support.

In April 1959, RADM David M. Tyree, USN, assumed command of the Antarctic Support Forces.

Ahead of him, in addition to resupplying the bases, was the job of almost completely rebuilding the four stations which are being maintained indefinitely.

Erected for IGY, the buildings were of a temporary nature and now partially require replacing.

Some of this new construction was accomplished in 1959 - 60 but much remains to be done.

At Byrd Station a whole new undersnow camp will be built. This will eliminate the problem of ice accumulation on the roofs of the buildings which at present makes permanent construction impossible.

Another planned improvement is the installation of atomic reactors to provide heat, power and light.

At present oil is used for these necessities but transporting the oil to Antarctica makes the cost of each barrel delivered skyrocket. Nuclear reactors will pay for themselves in from two and one half to five years, in the estimation of both Navy and Atomic Energy Commission experts.

New airplanes and other equipment will gradually be phased into use. Last season C-130 Hercules cargo planes made their first appearance in Antarctica. Ski-equipped, these planes can land at the inland stations, thus eliminating the need for air dropping cargo from C-124 Globemasters which were employed to build these remote stations.

Since the first year, Navymen, as well as scientists, have remained in Antarctica during the five month winter night. The scientists carry out their programs of study, observation and research. The sailors support the scientific program and make advance preparations for each summer's grand assault by the complex task force of men, ships and planes.

Spend a half-hour on the ski slopes and you'll neutralize a chocolate sundae's worth of calories.

That's the "Good News for Weight Watchers" from the January issue of Seventeen Magazine, which points out that overweight people often eat less than slim ones -- but they also exercise less. Prescription: a little action. Here's a list of calorie values to help you play your way thin:

A half hour skiing -- almost 300 calories.

Bowling -- 132 calories.

A half hour skating -- 102 calories.

Basketball -- 149 calories.

A half hour of table tennis -- 123 calories.

But you don't have to be athletic to burn up calories. A half hour playing the piano can burn up 22-34 calories (depending on whether you're playing a Mendelssohn piece -- 22 calories, or Beethoven -- 34). A walk with a beau will send 94 calories flying, and a romp with little brother, 105.

The whole secret is simply doing it every day. A half-hour of exercise daily adds up to weight loss; two hours one day a week adds up to nothing. And while you burn calories you tone muscles, firm soft spots. Skiing and skating work like sit-ups on calf, thigh and tummy muscles; basketball or bowling is a great exercise for arms, waist, thighs.

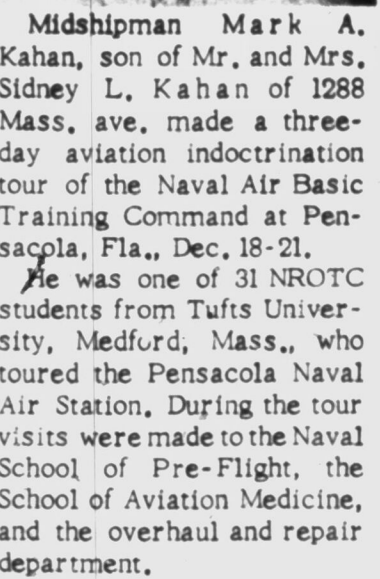

TEENS: BE CAREFUL OF 900-CALORIE FORMULA DIETS

--Warning: teen-agers must be careful about using the new 900-calorie diet formulas.

So reports the January issue of Seventeen Magazine, which warns that under no circumstances should a teen use a formula diet without a doctor's permission. These formulas are designed for adult use, and "careless use is unsound," says Dr. Philip White, of the American Medical Association.

The magazine points out, however, that a doctor might recommend a 900-calorie formula diet to a teen as a short, temporary "crutch."

In the foreground, a man wearing a light-colored jacket, a dark hat, and a scarf is walking towards the camera, leaning on a cane. He is surrounded by other people, some of whom are looking towards him. In the background, a sign on the right side of the image reads "WBZ RADIO 1030 TV". The scene appears to be a public gathering or a protest.

Arlington's Youth Council continuing its practice of presenting stories and pictures of youth activities throughout the Town of Arlington this week focussed its attention on Fidelity House of St. Agnes Parish.

The pictures on this page bring to attention a few of the many activities going on daily at this youth center. Offering the largest program since its inception, Fidelity House is just bustling daily with activities for Arlington youth.

At the present time, 38 Informal Education classes are held Monday through Saturday during the morning, afternoon, and evening periods. These classes include Sewing, Cooking, Arts & Crafts, Archery, Riflery, Little Theater, Driver Training and many others which satisfy the growing needs of youth.

Fidelity House will have three Hockey teams, six C.Y.O. high school basketball teams, and sixteen Intramural Basketball teams for boys from the fifth through the eighth grades in local schools this program year.

The Hi Fi or High School room offers billiards, ping pong, radio, T.V., games, and reading facilities to high school youth six days a week. Older youth can be seen making use of this fine facility any afternoon or evening during the week.

General facilities during the afternoon accommodate some 300 children using the games room, small gymnasium, and large gymnasium. Here one can see tournaments in ping pong, checkers, shuffleboard and use of some 50 different games. Tumbling, high bar exercise, weight lifting, group games make up the program of the smaller gym. In the large gym opportunity is given for basketball practice and games, badminton, volleyball, indoor baseball, and many more physical education activities.

A C.Y.O. council and a high school council composed of representatives from all secondary schools plan and execute all high school special events which include dances, ski trips, communion breakfasts, and other appropriate activities for the high schooler of today.

Leadership at Fidelity House is mostly volunteer. For every part time paid person there are ten volunteers doing a much needed, job for Arlington youth. Some 34 adult instructors teach the informal education classes weekly while another 30 young men coach the athletic teams. Still another 20 Older boys and girls act as general leaders in the building or on trips and tours.

Forest Lists Qualifications

Bernard A. Forest, assistant professor of mathematics and statistics at Boston University has announced his candidacy for the School Committee in Arlington. He made the following statement:

"It is my feeling that as we move into the 1960's there is a pronounced need for a new and energetic approach to the problems of our public schools, and that the administration of our schools calls for the matured consideration of a man seasoned with a broad educational background."

"An Assistant Professor of Mathematics and Statistics at Boston University I have been a member of that faculty for fourteen years. I hold the degree of Bachelor of Science from the University of Massachusetts and Master of Arts from Boston University."

"Born in Arlington thirty-nine years ago I am a life time resident of the town. My five children are enrolled in the public schools (grades 1 through 8)."

"In addition to my general background I cite as an added qualification for the office my three years experience as your School Committee representative (1957-1960). I shall have more to say about this in future releases."

"At this time I wish to reaffirm my intention to provide that kind of representation on your School Committee which will help

Candidates

Night

George A. Lincoln will act as moderator at the Candidates' Night of the League of Women Voters of Arlington to be held at the Arlington High School Auditorium Feb. 21, at 8 P.M.

Head of the English Department at the Arlington High School, Mr. Lincoln has been with the Arlington School System for the past eight years. He is present President of the Teachers' Club. The Lincolns reside at 25 Alfred Street.

Arranged by the Voters Service Committee under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Judge of the Arlington League, Candidates' Night is part of the League's program to promote informed and active participation of local citizens in Town Government.

Invited to participate in the program will be the candidates for the offices of Assessor, Housing Authority, School Committee and Selectman.

Citizens will have the opportunity to ask questions of the candidates during the forum and may meet the candidates informally during the social hour following.

Planning the social hour, which will be held in the High School Cafeteria, is Mrs. W. G. MacFarlan, Hospitality Chairman of the League.

Resigns

The Republican Town Committee regretfully accepted the resignation of William A. Barnstead as chairman. Mr. Barnstead stated to members of the Town Committee that since town affairs are non-partisan and as he is now a candidate for the board of Selectmen he wished his resignation to be effective immediately.

Asks No Parking

Police Chief Ryan has recommended that there be no parking on either side of Mystic st. for 75 feet beyond the Chestnut st. intersection. Flow of traffic has been slowed as a result of parking in this area.

Resigns

Resigning as Warden for Precinct 6 is Robert L. Keefe, 10 Pond Lane. Appointed by the Selectmen to replace him has been Alton P. Greene of 9 Whittemore st., and as deputy warden, James C. Kiernan of 11 Whittemore st.

The new traffic signals are in operation at the intersection of Mystic st. and Mass. ave. with the usual complaints.

The "bugs" in this system are expected to be ironed out without 10 days or two weeks.

At the same time, no parking along Mystic st. has been requested and should serve to clear up another small problem now existing.

The rumors of the new bank which is expected to open in Arlington in the future took on a concrete meaning this week with the announcement that a hearing on the matter is expected in March or April.

Eight or nine months should see the project under way.

The jackpot question, "Where will such a bank be located?"

Mrs. Clifford Hall, Recording Sec'y and Mrs. Chester Ginder, Treasurer, presented their reports. Mrs. Robert K. Wallace, Bazaar Chairman, reported on the success of the annual bazaar and thanked members and friends for contributions and time devoted to this very worthwhile civic cause.

Bradshaw Guild

The monthly meeting of the Anna Bradshaw Guild of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church will be held Feb. 6, at 2 p.m. in the youth lounge.

Refreshments will be served by the Mystic-side Group in the Church Parlor at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. William Eakins, president will conduct the business meeting. Mrs. Ralph Tuller will be the leader for the devotional period.

Mrs. Marion K. Larson, director of services for older people for the Family Services Association of Greater Boston will be the guest speaker. Her subject is "Are you growing old gracefully?"

The speaker, Mrs. Rosamond Frost Howe presented her subject, "Search For Good Design". A program which captured and held the interest of all.

Mrs. Carl Freyer, Corresponding Sec'y, announced the speaker for the March meeting to be Capt. Paul Sullivan of the Juvenile Delinquent Squad. This should prove to be a very stimulating and helpful discussion to combat a problem that concerns the community.

The day for the annual Spring project, a dessert bridge, will be April 6.

St. Agnes Bands Present Third Annual Concert

This two-night concert scheduled for Sunday and Monday, February 12 and 13 promises to be the best yet. Although both groups, Seniors and Juniors have a wonderful record in outdoor competitions over the past few years there is little doubt that the yearly concert is the highlight of the year for both the staff and members. The Senior Band finished as runner-up in C.Y.O. Field Competitions in its second year in Class A and is the only group to have defeated St. Williams Band of Dorchester in the last six years. The Junior Band finished its first summer of competition by establishing itself as number one in its own class.

Those who attend this year's Concert will no doubt continue to be delighted as have audiences in past years. The feature of the Senior's repertoire will be the "Overture 1812" by Tchaikowsky, complete with effects, a piece not even attempted by very fine amateur groups. In addition there will be the usual well-rounded program of popular and military airs, for which this group has become famous. The size of the Junior Band has increased to ninety members since last season. The Juniors also, will be presenting a well-rounded concert within a concert. Parents and friends of this young group should be delighted at the progress.

In a lighter vein the Merry-Tones a fine quartet, and Joe Madden, a veteran entertainer will provide songs and merriment that promise an evening well spent. Little wonder that this event has become known as the "Musical Bargain of the Year"

Barbershoppers Show Here

The 1961 annual Barbershop show will be held April 21, at the Arlington High School Auditorium beginning at 8 P.M., announced Mr. Frank Tillou, President of the Local Chapter of S.P.E.-B.S.Q.S.A., the society for the preservation and encouragement of barbershop quartet singing in America Inc.

Frank said, "The theme of this year's show is Show of Stars and will feature five outstanding quartets of Local and International fame. The Arlingtonges, the local Barbershop Chorus will round out the program under the direction of Mr. Robert Carter.

"Both reserved and general admission tickets will be available this year, and may be obtained from the members of the Arlington Chapter or from the ticket chairman, Jack Leary, MI-3-3778."

Matignon Guild

Matignon Guild will hold its meeting Feb. 9 at 2:30 P.M. in Matignon High School. There will follow a Complimentary Bridge and Whist Party to which all the mothers of students are cordially welcome. There will be prizes to be awarded the winner at each table. Refreshments will be served.

Proud Day For Tina

"Tina" Noyes, young Arlington resident, proudly holds "Letter of Citation" presented to her by the Board of Selectmen Monday night. Tina, at the age of 12, won the United States Novice Figure Skating Championship at competition in Colorado last week. Looking on is center, Mrs. Kenneth Spengler, chairman of the Arlington Youth Council, and Tina's mother, Mrs. W. D. Noyes.

Board Gets Action on M.T.A. Protests

Arlington got some amount of action from the M.T.A. this week as a result of the protest letter sent by the Board of Selectmen to Thomas McLernon, M.T.A. head.

John J. Callahan, transportation manager for the M.T.A., came out to Arlington last Thursday morning to personally confer with the executive secretary to the Board, Frank Nicksay, in an effort to come up with some solutions to the complaints of Arlington commuters.

Nicksay told the Selectmen Monday night that Callahan had promised two additional buses for the evening rush hours from Harvard Square. He also said that Callahan hoped to have the results of the underground exhaust gas tests within thirty days. Also, an effort to have waiting buses open their doors at Harvard Square was promised by Callahan. While admitting that the bus service has been aggravated by inclement weather, Callahan pointed out that the M.T.A. could do nothing about blocked road conditions.

Pleased that their letter had done some good, Selectman Parker pointed out that this was more action than they had had for some time.

Bound For Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, 392 Appleton St., are shown about to board TWA Superjet for Rome. After seeing sights in Italy it's off to Munich for skiing in Bavarian Alps, and then a few days in Paris before returning home. Mr. Evans is an expert cabinet maker with the Wilfert Bros. Co. in Arlington. TWA Photo.

Over 15 local business and professional men have applied to the Massachusetts Board of Bank Incorporation to charter a new commercial bank in Arlington.

A public hearing is expected to take place at the State House, Boston in March or April.

At that time, facts will be presented by the incorporators of the proposed bank supporting their contention that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment of the new commercial bank. The incorporators, through their Attorney, George F. Cahill, of Boston cited the fact that there has not been any new commercial banking facilities in Arlington since 1920. It was pointed out that since 1920, the Town's population has grown 187 per cent and since 1943 the payroll of local business has grown over 420 per cent.

With a population just under 50,000 Arlington is the largest town in Middlesex County and the second largest town in Massachusetts.

Attorney Cahill indicated that the incorporators of the proposed bank have between 8 to 10 locations within the Town under consideration.

LOCALLY OPERATED

The bank will be organized and operated by local residents and business men with local capital. Attorney Cahill stated that the incorporators of the proposed bank feel that the addition of a locally owned commercial bank will not only provide added convenience for the people of Arlington but will stimulate local business.

Jewish Center Changes Name

At their monthly membership meeting, Jan. 17 the members of the A.L.B. Jewish Community Center voted to adopt the new name of Temple Emunah -- meaning Temple of Faith.

The change was made to more accurately reflect the expansion of the congregation's religious program; and, because the membership now includes residents of Belmont, Burlington, Concord, Lincoln, South Acton, Waltham, and Watertown--in addition to Arlington, Lexington, and Bedford--it was felt that the geographic delineation of the former name was no longer appropriate.

The expanded religious program, under the full-time spiritual leadership and guidance of Rabbi Herbert Rosenblum, now includes a Hebrew School taught by a professional staff in addition to regular Friday night, Saturday and Sunday services as well as services on Jewish holidays and special occasions.

Temple Emunah will continue to maintain all of the functions of the organization which includes a full program of social activities, adult education, youth activities, brotherhood and sisterhood. Future plans include the construction of a new building on the Temple's 7 acre tract of land located on Route 2 near Waltham Street in Lexington.

grade student at Marycliff Academy. Age 12, Tina practices four to five hours a day in New England during the winter and in Michigan during the summer months.

Help Mothers March

Mrs. Mary Richardson, Chairman of the Mothers March of Dimes Drive in Arlington tests out Civil Defense equipment in front of Town Hall. Looking on are those who "pitched in" to help Mothers during "March". Left to right: Capt. Joe Juffre; Chief of Auxiliary Police Ed Harrington; Arlington March Treasurer Clarence Marsh; Mrs. Richardson; George Eustis, ham operator for Civil Defense; John Dempsey, Civil Defense Director; and Capt. Lansing, Auxiliary Police.

Mothers March Success

Tuesday evening's Mothers March for the March of Dimes was deemed a success by Mary Richardson, this year's Chairman.

Assisted by scores of Marching Mothers, and some undaunted Marching Fathers in the person of the Arlington Auxiliary Police, Mrs. Richardson was again able to report that the Drive was "over the top".

"As usual, the citizens of Arlington rallied behind our drive", Mrs. Richardson said, "and through their generosity, and the hard work of our many volunteers, Arlington again will play an important part in the continuing fight against Polio."

"In a town as large as Arlington, we're afraid we may have missed a few homes" Mrs. Richardson said, "but anyone who we missed may send a check to The March of Dimes at 18 Pleasant Street."

March of Dimes funds will be used for the continued necessary care for polio patients in Middlesex County, and to further The National Foundation's program of research and professional health education through scholarships and grants to worthy individuals.

Seniors Plan Discussion Of Secondary Problems

Four Arlington High seniors will discuss secondary school problems at the Junior High East P.T.A. meeting in the auditorium tonight at 7:30. Mrs. James J. Scannell, president, will conduct the opening business session.

Mrs. James T. Thoar, program chairman and moderator, will lead the discussion on education, parental discipline, car privileges, and dating. A question period will follow.

The panelists will be Gay-Ann Beninati, Judith Fitzpatrick, Carl Allen and Louis Kuntz.

Mrs. William Ryan, hospitality chairman, will be in charge of refreshments.

The P.T.A. executive board met Jan. 26 at the home of Berg Keshian, 69 Ridge street, to make plans for the meeting and the Valentine dance to be held for East pupils, Feb. 14.
